A GIFT FROM THE STARS.

By ERROLD DRAKE.

A LONG time ago, when the stars ruled on high,
A great many wonders were seen in the sky.
There were tables of blue, there were couches of gold,
And shelves of deep crimson, and colours untold;
There were floors black and shining, and walls white as snow,
And many more things that I really don't know.
Now said Venus to Saturn, said Saturn to Mars,
"I really do think we are greedy old stars;
For we have a secret that no one does know;
Let us share with the mortals who live down below!"
So they took the great secret, tacked it on to a spear,
Tied up in a thing that we call an "idea;"
Then dropped it right down on the top of a man,
Who, despairing, was painting a hot-water can.
The spear it struck home, the idea was unfurled,
And now the great wonder is known to the world:
Is carried by train, is carried by boat;
Is known to all people, on land or afloat;
Is carried by horse, is carried by camel;
And this is its name—"ASPINALL'S ENAMEL!"

A WORD IN SEASON.

In the successive deadly struggles which this country had to sustain in the early years of its history it was a very fortunate circumstance that no one cried "Muera Brown, muera el Ingles!" This is a fact that must have impressed itself on the historian, Gen. Mitre, and on all thoughtful Argentines. Any mutiny in those days against Admiral Brown might have found a strong body of sympathisers in Buenos Ayres, and who knows but the Government might have looked on with indifference? The consequences to the Argentine Republic would have been appalling.

Such reflections are forced upon us at the present moment when we hear in the streets the cry of "Down with the Englishman" applied to the Inspector of Schools. The principle of authority is set at nought, as if the birth-place of Mr. Fitz-Simon were in itself a crime. Meantime it is well to bear in mind that the Inspector-General of Schools is essentially an Argentine. He came here at the age of 7 years; his father was for many years rector of the National College of Corrientes, to which post he himself succeeded 20 years ago. He is author of various text-books in use in the schools of the country. Since his appointment to his present post he has issued an edict against boys smoking in the National College. In so doing he may have acted unwisely, as tobacco may be good for boys (although we think the contrary), but there is no sense in crying out "Down with the Englishman" when Mr. Fitz-Simon is a good Argentine.

CURE FOR THE CRISIS.

Many of our readers may still remember the great commercial crisis through which this country passed in the year 1876, and the numerous remedies then proposed for its cure. The newspapers of that period were filled every morning with new and various schemes to save the country, until at last the public became tired of the subject, when one fine morning a gentleman entered the Government House in Calle Moreno and placed on the Minister's table a sealed dispatch purporting to be an effective remedy for which he claimed a fee or reward of one million of dollars of the then currency, exacting from the Minister a payment of same before the seals were broken.

The country, the Government, and the people were then very different from what they are now; there was a certain Buenosarian simplicity about things and about men which afforded a kind of importance to the offer that to-day would be impossible. People were more homely, more credulous and less extravagant; and the long and short of it was that half the press of Buenos Ayres were in favor of paying for the secret remedy, whilst the Government stoutly refused the whole business. The seals were not broken, the packet was never opened, and the Spaniard who claimed the reward retired from the Government House amidst the derision of the public.

It may possibly amuse many of our readers to learn that, after a short time, the secret was divulged, and as well as we can recollect, the proposed remedy was to stop the burning of the "basura" and sell it for manure for export; to gather up all the thistles in the camp and make from them an artificial coal.

The ridicule that surrounded the matter may be better imagined than described, and after varied turns of fortune the country pulled through without the aid of the thistle or the "basura."

In the present crisis, which is vastly superior in magnitude to that of 1876, the inventive genius of Argentines and Spaniards to find remedies to save the country has been less taxed, and it was reserved for our London friends, who take such a deep interest in our prosperity, to suggest a remedy which for novelty and originality beats the "basura" and thistle hollow.

Before giving to our readers this wonderful scheme, which we find in a London paper received by yesterday's mail, it may be useful to summarise the situation. The country is in a state of siege; one of our war vessels in the offing is crowded with political prisoners; Congress is about to be opened; the long pending election of President about to take place; the tremendous crisis which has shaken the republic to its very foundation is drawing to a close; the National college reform question is the sole topic in our homes; the army is skirmishing through the sheep-farms of Zarate and Pilar, and the political parties that have played such conspicuous parts alike in our prosperity as in our misfortune are crushed to atoms beneath the wheels of this crisis, of which few other countries can show a parallel.

We shall not dilate further on this subject, but merely give our readers the following extract from a London paper of March 26th 1892 Our colleague says: "A contagious diseases act for animals is a matter of the highest national importance to the Argentines, whose chief sources of wealth are flocks and herds. If they want to quickly retrieve their misfortunes let them see to it in time and secure their possessions while they may."

OUR LONDON LETTER.

FINANCIAL ITEMS.

(From our own Correspondent.)

April 2nd

The news from Buenos Ayres continues to be good and, as some say, "inspiring." This is in reference to remittances of interest (£20,000) by the Province of Entre Rios and to the abandonment by the Government of the Province of Buenos Ayres of an intended tax on railway tickets. The premium on gold remains tolerably steady, and your political questions are assumed to be settled. Hence the two natural results that Argentine securities maintain their recently enhanced values, and, excepting in the columns of the South American Journal, the holy words "Argentine Republic" are rarely seen. The time is not yet for unloading, and, to say the truth, the absolute business done in Argentines on the London Stock Exchange is insignificant. The journal just named is particularly newsy to-day. To save your own cutlery, I have taken the trouble to cut out a few items of general interest from the South American Journal. There is a page and a half of long discussion between Sir John Lubbock and Mr. Kennedy on the Uruguay Conversion which I do not send, as you can help yourselves to it if you have space for so much of a now exhausted subject.

The following from the Financial News of March 31st will cause you to smile:—

"The report of the Council of Foreign Bondholders for 1891 is not conspicuous for its accuracy—at least as far as the public debt of the Argentine Republic is concerned. The information given is "taken from the Buenos Ayres "STANDARD of October 22 and October "23, 1891," and, according to the Council of Foreign Bondholders, "the figures "have been compiled by Mr. Mulhall, "the well-known statistician." Mr. Mulhall, the well-known statistician, resides, not in the Argentine Republic, but in Ireland, and the gentleman whom the Council has so inaccurately described is not the well-known statistician, but his nephew. According to the Argentine Mr. Mulhall, the National Funded Debt consists of:—

(A) FOREIGN LOANS.

	$ Gold.
Pellegrini Loan....	40,500,000
Loans in suspense.	118,700,000
Moratoribus Loan..	75,000,000
	234,200,000

This is entirely misleading; it is true that the total amount of the Moratoribus Loan authorised is $75,000,000, but the total amount of it issued in 1891, the period with which the report deals, was only £1,906,781, or equal to $9,610,176 gold. The so-called Moratoribus Loan, which is known here as the Funding Loan, has sufficient interest for English holders of Argentine securities to make this correction of some importance."

In a short article on the slow progress of settlement of Argentine Foreign Debts, the S. A. Journal thus alludes to the matter just quoted:—

"In correcting the statement made in the report for 1891 of the Council of Foreign Bondholders that the Funding Loan, or as it is called by the Buenos Ayres STANDARD, on which the Council has depended for its statistics, the Moratoribus Loan, amounted to $75,000,000 gold, the Financial News adduces the interesting fact that the total amount issued of this loan in 1891 was £1,906,781, or $9,610,176 gold. A further and, no doubt, a larger amount will, of course, be issued this year, but it was manifestly unfair to quote the whole amount authorised as issued."

This question, I think you referred to yourselves some time ago, in reply to similar remarks in regard to the amount not issued of the 1891 loan.

Enclosed you will find that portion of the report of the meeting of the Municipal Trust which refers to Argentine Municipalities and notably our Rosario friends. The Chairman of the Trust, Sir Charles E. Lewis, was not complimentary in his remarks. And after all, the Trust has only about £35,000 in South American municipal bonds. A larger sum was stated in some of the newspaper reports, but this has been corrected. In speaking of Parana City, Sir Charles told us that the loan made by that municipality through a high financial firm in London, was to be devoted to building a town-hall and paving the streets, and would you believe it, he tells us that the Town Hall has been positively built and even some of the streets have been paved. And yet he complains about the second or third coupon or something not being paid. Sir Charles is too exacting. As municipalities go, Parana has behaved very honourably.

The Revenue returns just issued for the complete financial year are satisfactory, showing a net increase of £1,505,-674. The gross receipts amount to £98,576,618.

The surplus at Mr. Goschen's disposal arises partly from the fact that this year being leap-year there is a day more—worth £300,000—to the revenue; and owing to the lateness of Easter, the financial year is so much longer. But a comparison of the items shows that notwithstanding the Argentine collapse and the McKinley tariff, trade in Great Britain is healthy under the blessed regime of free trade, and taxable incomes and properties increase in amount and value. The heavy death rate this year amongst the wealthier classes contributed also to the Chancellor of the Exchequer's surplus, estimated at £727,000.

The Silver Question is the financial question of the hour. The white metal is now a little firmer, but it has been unprecedentedly low, and this in spite of United States legislation. In fact the impression is that the free coinage movement in America is doomed. The secretary of the Bimetallist League hastens to write to the Times assuring us that all parties in America are still united as to the desirability of pressing the idea of an international understanding for the regulation of the comparative prices of gold and silver; whatever may be the fate of the silver bills now before the United States legislature. But the notion here is, that no such international agreement is feasible. The experience of the last few months has knocked the last plank out of the bimetallist theories.

The production of silver has proved too prolific, and this the bimetallists always refused to acknowledge would be the case. A correspondent of the Times points to the London system of India Council bills as one source of the difficulty. These bills are assumed to act as absolute silver warrants, with the exception that the delivery is in India instead of at the London Docks. The point is treated by the Economist of today, but the whole financial administration of India wants overhauling, and it is too soon to attack the question, which in the end is commercial as well as financial. The people in Manchester, in regard to the Indian producers, are much in the position of English shareholders in Argentine railways in respect to Argentine producers, whose exports are favoured by a cheap currency. The special or individual interests of each can never combine. The only remedy is in the main principle, that what is best for the commuuity in general is in the end best for all. Producers and manufacturers gain in whatever most promotes the bulk of trade of a nation.

Ed. Note. Loans concluded and negotiated are always counted as public debt. Our London critics ought to have known this. We may add that Mr. Mulhall the statist and the editor of the STANDARD are the same person.

BRITISH HOSPITAL ANNUAL MEETING.

There was an unusually good attendance at the annual meeting of trustees and subscribers of the British Hospital, and among those present were H B. M. Consul Mr. Bridgett, Rev. J W Fleming, Messrs. John Drysdale, Barrow, Mackintosh, Lockwood, Krabbe, Tucker, John Nelson, Higgins, Lowe, Goodwin, Robert Mackern, Stokes, Reade and Dr. Watkins.

The President, Mr. John Drysdale, in proposing that the report and accounts be approved, said that the general state of the hospital had been very satisfactory and that the committee considered that it was largely due to the excellent work of the Resident Medical officer Dr. O'Conor, and to the nursing staff under the direction of the matron Miss Eames, to whom they are much indebted and in whom they have the fullest confidence. The cash statement of the year is very favourable owing to the generosity of the public, especially in donations and receipts from entertainments and camp collections, and he noted in a very interesting article in the STANDARD that the working expenses compare favourably, with those of hospitals in England. Referring to the need of additional wards, he said that it has been continually necessary to make up beds on the floors of the wards for want of sufficient accommodation, and he trusted that the British public would support the bazaar that is shortly to be held to provide funds for enlarging the "Women's Ward" and providing an "Intermediate Ward" for young men in offices and others who cannot afford to pay for private rooms. Friends in England have already given nearly £700: special donations of about £250 are promised in Buenos Ayres, and most liberal contributions of goods for sale have arrived. The bazaar committee hope that very soon arrangements can be made for locality of that bazaar, and that it will be a great success.

Referring to the mortality in the Hospital, he pointed out that 25 out of 57 deaths were of people who were brought in to the Hospital in a very bad state of typhoid fever, or in the last stage of consumption—very often from the camp—and also that being the nearest to the Boca, the British Hospital receives a large proportion of bad surgical cases of all nationalities that cannot be refused.

Mr. Lockwood, in seconding the resolution, said that from personal experience he could back up the report, and speak for the excellent management of the hospital and the good treatment that patients receive, and spoke highly of the kindness of Dr. O'Conor and the nurses. He also said that the beautiful garden that has recently been made is a great boon to convalescent patients. He hoped that the new committee may do more than was originally intended in providing additional wards, for they are badly wanted and should be built as soon as possible, and there being especial need for an "Isolation ward" for dyphtheria and diseases of an infectious nature that cannot be treated in the general wards.

Mr. Higgins proposed a special vote of thanks to the Honorary visiting Surgeon (Dr. Watkins) and Physician (Dr. Greene) for their unremitting attention to the hospital, and said that he could speak personally of the skillful treatment and the exceeding care that are bestowed on patients by Doctors and Nurses. Mr. Denny Stokes seconded the resolution in similar terms.

The Committee for 1891 consisted of the following gentlemen:—

Mr. John Drysdale, Chairman.
Mr. F. L. Wallace, Hon. Treasurer.
Mr. J. H. Higgins, Hon. Secretary.
Ex-officio—Ronald Bridgett, H.B.M. Consul.
Do—Rev. Pelham Ogle, St. John's Church.
Do—Rev. J. W. Fleming, St. Andrews Church.
Do—J. H. Stockton, American M. E. Church.
Mr. Louis J. Lowe.
" William Goodwin.
" F. W. Barrow.
" Lewis J. Wright.

Of whom Messrs Drysdale, Higgins and Lowe retired by rotation and were replaced by election of Messrs F. C. Cooke, John Nelson and Mr. Andrew Mackintosh. The Revd. Father Fidelis, head of the Passionist Fathers, has also recently joined the Committee as Irish Chaplain, according to the statutes.

The following gentlemen were elected as suplentes: Mr. George Hunt, Mr. Peter Macgregor, Mr. A. F. Ennor, Mr. J. C. Zimmerman and Mr. C R. C. Miller, and the meeting terminated with a cordial vote of thanks to the President, Mr. John Drysdale, great regret being expressed that he would not consent to be re-elected.

THREE MONTHS AT ALTA GRACIA

(Communicated).

I have just returned from Alta Gracia, after a stay of three months, which has done me much benefit. I had been for some years suffering from weak digestion, but no sooner did I breathe the air of the Sierras and partake of the wholesome food of the simple villagers than I became a new man.

The first impression reminds you of the lovely Gap of Dunloe at the Lakes of Killarney. Hills covered with timber rise on each side, in a thousand peaks or cones, and the noise of countless waterfalls is music to the ear. At the "represa" constructed by the Jesuits in the 18th century there is a charming prospect, and the trees are festooned with mistletoe, some of which I have brought back with me.

It is most enjoyable in the early morning to mount one of the little mustang horses, and ride for hours through every variety of mountain and woodland scenery, the scent of the air and the beauty of vegetation defying my powers of description. The hire of a horse costs sixpence (50 cents) a day.

Lakes and waterfalls impart a charm that impresses any traveller, but especially a person like myself who has spent his life in the southern pampas of Buenos Ayres. There is, moreover, the beautiful river Anasacate, the water of which is full of sarsaparilla, so beneficial to invalids.

There is an abundance of the best food. The milk is very rich, the cows feeding on aromatic herbs. For a like reason the mutton and kid's meat are excellent.

Professor Kyle's description of this delightful place induced me to make a trip thither, intending to stay 15 days. I have spent three most agreeable months, and advise others to do the same. The hotel charge is about $4 (paper-money) a day, but a party would find it easy to hire rooms, and to get food for the whole party for $1 daily, that is 50 cents for food and 50 cents wages to the cook.

D. F.

Ed. Note. We have no doubt that if the Central Argentine Railway would offer return-tickets at single fare during the 6 months of the cool season, available for 120 days, the merits of Alta Graeia would soon become appreciated.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

Our Rosario exchanges state that the Board of Directors of the smashed-up Provincial Bank are going for morose debtors with fruitful energy. Several gentlemen, under the extraordinary pressure, have paid up their debts, and others are trying to follow suit. If the Board continue to act so energetically, they will manage "to make the pig jump over the stile." Very many debtors have agreed to pay off their debts in 10 % instalments.

The settlers of Esperanza, Santa Fé, are organizing an Agricultural Congress. Esperanza is a very go-ahead settlement. It has a bank of its own now, and prosperity smiles on the efforts of the colonists. There are mills and factories in the colony. There are newspapers. There are clubs. In fact Esperanza is a little metropolis.

The general intelligence from the Interior yesterday was not of a nature to set the River Plate on fire. The recent patriotic movement in Santiago del Estero turns out a mere playful electioneering ruse on the part of the police, who fired a volley in the air, in the "wild freshness of morning, (5 a.m.) and the rushed into the houses of the patriots marked for arrest, pulled them out of bed by the heels and marched them shivering to jail. The whole thing was meant simply to prevent the Legislature meeting on May 1st.

The Rosario papers refer to a repetition of a very old story; the mysterious disappearance of some judicial deposits. Of course the usual enquiry is to take place, and with the strong probability of the usual result. We believe that the oldest inhabitant cannot recollect the finding of a judicial deposit, once effectually lost.

BUENOS AYRES GRAND NATIONAL TRAMS.

A meeting of the debenture holders of this Company was held at the offices, St. George's House, Eastcheap.

The Chairman said: Gentlemen,—As the resolutions have already been sent round to you, together with the circular explaining the reason why it has become necessary to hold this meeting, I do not think there is very much I need say to you. The resolutions will be proposed on behalf of the company, but, in the meantime, I think you would probably like to hear a statement from Captain Clark Kennedy, who has been working this line for some months, and who will be able to inform you much better than I can as to the present position of the line.

Captain Clark Kennedy, of Knockgray, said that the position he was placed in on the present occasion was not in the least of his own seeking. Sir Andrew Clarke, the chairman of the Company, wished to give up the receivership and managership of this undertaking. It seemed that no one was very desirous of succeeding Sir Andrew, as the present state of the Company was not quite so satisfactory as they could have wished. But this state of things could not last for ever, for things in the Argentine, as in other countries, must shortly improve. He had been given to understand that the resolutions to be proposed that day included the appointment of himself in the place of Sir Andrew Clarke, and he therefore proposed to tell those present the steps he should take if he were so elected.

Having quoted figures from an article in a financial paper as to tramways in general in the Argentine, which he said put the position of affairs in a nutshell, the speaker said that, comparing the tramway returns of the Argentine Republic with the tramway enterprise of the United Kingdom, they found a most wonderful and marked difference, the balance being immensely in favour of tramway enterprise in Buenos Ayres: for, whereas the population of the United Kingdom carried a number of passengers equalling the entire population of Great Britain every 34 days, those of Buenos Ayres carried an equal number of people once in every four days, thus showing that the tramway returns in Buenos Ayres were 9 times greater than in the United Kingdom. He regretted that Sir George Bruce was unable to be present. Sir George had informed him that no one who had visited Buenos Ayres within the last three years but was satisfied, from an engineering point of view, with their tramways. The lines, which were some 26 miles in length, were laid upon a solid bed of concrete, 6 ft. in breadth and 1 ft. in thickness. The rails were of the best and most solid quality possible, and were manufactured in Germany. It took, he believed, six men of average strength to lift and carry a single rail, so that there was no fear of their being pulled up and used as battering rams or anything of the sort in case of revolution. In the case of other lines such a thing was possible. Their stables were built upon a concrete foundation, were roofed with corrugated iron, and he believed the uprights were entirely of brick. They were insured against fire for £36,000, so that if they were damaged by fire the company would not be the losers. The horses, to the number of 600 or 700, had to be sold some months ago owing to the immense price of forage. The price of hay, corn and maize had gone up during the past year nearly 400 per cent., and had the company kept their horses, such an enormous sacrifice would have put the company in a very much worse position than they stood in at the present time.

Sir Vincent Barrington, who returned from Buenos Ayres last year, had told them that their tramway was far and away, without exception, the most solid and best and most magnificently equipped of any of the existing tramways. Admiral Kennedy, who knew Buenos Ayres very well and was there last year, had also said, that by watching the tramway service in the city on any given day there would be seen on all the lines, with the solitary exception of their own, a car or waggon off the rails, every 200 yards. That, he believed, was no exaggeration, for many people had told them the same thing. In their own case, Sir Vincent Barrington had told them he had only once seen a car off the line. The economies effected lately, besides the sale of the horses, included the discharge of all the servants of the company, with the exception of four or five individuals who were required by the local manager to keep the stables, harness, permanent way, &c., in good order. Of course, the staff would have to be increased when the reopening of the line took place, and this, with the debenture-holders' consent, it was proposed to do on the 2nd May. The municipal authorities of the country had allowed them to remain closed for a considerable time, but now, happily, all the difficulties which they had had to meet had been overcome, and the company was now in a position to recommence working on a limited scale. It was hoped that the whole of the system would be reopened in course of time. As it was, the company now felt themselves to be in a position to carry on the undertaking for five, six, or possibly seven years, and by that time the clouds would surely have rolled away and the Argentine have regained its former position.

To show the progress made prior to the revolution, the speaker proceeded to touch upon the traffic returns from the opening of the line in April, 1890. In the first month, he said, 49,000 passengers were carried; in May, 81,000; and in June, 121,000. About the end of June or the beginning of July came the revolution, the traffic being paralyzed. In August, however, confidence having been partially restored 186,000 people travelled over their lines and 163,000 in September. In November, which was the last month in which they were able to run, owing to the want of money, the traffic rose to 231,000, so that he did not think they need despair in re opening their line. He had to inform the bondholders that their manager in Buenos Ayres had disposed of six of the company's cars without authority. He (the speaker) disapproved of this action, as did also the Board, and instructions had been sent to that official not to sell again without instructions from London. The arrears upon the taxes and wages, and the immense rise in the gold premium were the main causes which led to the difficulties experienced at the end of last year. In order to restart the working of the line as proposed, a sum of about £2,500 or £3,000 was required, but this expense would not recur every month or even every year, because it involved the repurchase of horses—not the hire—and of course the laying in of a stock of forage.

Mr. Seton Karr inquired whether the whole of the £6,000 subscribed had been sent over to Buenos Ayres.

A Shareholder asked whether the company's cars could be driven more economically by steam.

Captain Clark Kennedy replied that over £4,000 had been sent over. Steam would not be economical, as its use would involve the purchase of an immense stock of engines and tenders. Horses could be obtained for about £2 each. Continuing, the speaker said the municipal authorities had virtually promised the company more than one valuable concession, among them being the reduction of the Government tax, which they were under compulsion to pay, from 8 per cent. to 6 per cent. of the gross earnings. Besides this, they also hoped some day to attain access to the centre of the city.

The resolutions were put by the Chairman, and carried unanimously.

Captain Kennedy acknowledged the compliment paid him by his being elected receiver and manager, and the proceeding terminated.

ELECTRICITY AT ST. ETIENNE.

The City Council of St. Etienne has decided upon a departure which will have an important effect on the silk and ribbon industries both in Europe and in America. It has been resolved to apply electric motive power to all the handlooms in the city, and contracts have been made with an electric company for the necessary plant and currents.

The electric dynamos are to be driven by water from the city reservoirs. There is practically an unlimited supply of water in the reservoirs, with a fall of upwards of 100 feet. The cost of producing the electricity will be reduced to the lowest point possible. To grasp the importance and far-reaching results of this innovation it is necessary to understand that the bulk of the enormous output of ribbons (£1,500,000 a year) is the product of house industry. The weavers for the most part own their own looms, and operate them by hand in their own houses. There are 18,000 looms which are thus distributed among the homes of the weavers, while the number of looms driven by steam in the few ribbon factories of the town is only 5,000. The 18,000 looms of the independent weavers are valued in the aggregate at £900,000.

What the city of St. Etienne proposes to do is to convert each one of the 18,000 handlooms into a power loom driven by electricity. Electric light will also be furnished. The result of this change from slow, laborious, uncertain hand-power to the swift, regular, unfailing power furnished by electric motors will be an increase in the productive capacities of the looms and a considerable reduction in the general expenses of fabrication. According to the report of the American Consul the weavers of St. Etienne have always been the most artistic ribbon makers in the world, but they have enjoyed few mechanical advantages. Now the old order of things is to be changed, and the products of the St. Etienne ribbon looms which have been a trifle more costly than similar products in some other countries, notably in Switzerland, will be turned out at the lowest possible prices. The workpeople employed in the ribbon trade number 70,000.

SALVATION ARMY REFUGE.

April 27th.

Mr. Editor,

The nights are getting cold, and naturally the requests for old clothea are increasing.

Continually we are providing work for our poorer countrymen, and have also found free passages to England for many, who through sickness and other causes have returned home; these are often almost naked and quite penniless. May I request your charitably disposed readers to assist us all they can by sending blankets and all kinds of men's and women's clothing to our deposits; or on receipt of telephone message or post-card our cart will call for parcels.

We have now established labour centres in Campana, Banfield, La Plata and Uruguay, and during the last few months we have found work for hundreds.

A few sacks of camp biscuits would be very gratefully received.

Very sincerely yours,

Alfred de Barritt.

RAILWAY ITEMS.

The Attorney-General has issued a report on the application filed by the North-East Argentine for five years' extension of time to complete the works of the Railway. The Attorney-General says: "Either the contract must be strictly carried out under pain of 10,000$ gold fine for every month's delay, or the Government may grant a reasonable extension of time on condition that the guarantee be suspended during that time."

The Inspector-General has advised Government to grant the Central Northern Railway authority to build a third-class station to be called Rio Colorado, between kils. 507 and 508, on the Cordoba Tucuman Line. Some time ago, Mr. Munro, the Manager, received a petition from 146 settlers between Agua Blanca and Colorado (Tucuman) requesting him to erect a station, which appears to be much needed.

We take the following from a late London exchange:—

The experience of the Buenos Ayres Western Railway during the latter half of 1891 was, on a somewhat smaller scale of course, the same as that of the Great Southern. The Western carried more wool than in the corresponding half-year; but the bulk of the clip is yet to come forward, thanks to the lateness of the shearing season. The manager of the Great Southern Railway puts the wool product as twenty-five per cent larger than in the 1890 season, while the Times Correspondent estimates the value of pastoral and agricultural produce awaiting export at five millions sterling. The weekly increases reported by the Great Southern and others of the Argentine railways bid fair to be maintained and improved on, and we cannot but regard with satisfaction the circumstance that the only item of up-country traffic which showed a gain in bulk last half-year on the Great Southern and the Western Railways was the conveyance of fencing posts. This would seem to indicate a disposition to put more land into cultivation or under pasture, and so still further to develop the commercial purchasing power of the Republic.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Vigorous rumours about what Congress intends to say about things in general, when it meets, were flying about yesterday. These and the military manœuvres were the principal topics in some circles. The President of the Republic intends to start for the seat of war this afternoon, to decide as to which side has won.

There was less fizz in the National College flare-up yesterday, and matters appear to be settling down. No "novedad" ever lasts longer than three days in these regions.

Spelling Bees used to be fashionable at home. We understand that Whisky Bees are becoming fashionable in British and high-life Argentine circles here. At a Bee of this kind held in a fashionable club on Thursday night, at which half a dozen brands of Scotch and Irish competed, the D. S. L. Special Cream (Getting & Co. importers) won the day—or rather the night.

The National Deputies held their first preparatory sitting yesterday. Fifty honorable members were present. Dr. Zorrilla was elected President of the sitting, and he named as the Comision de Poderes Deputies Gilbert, Ayarragaray, Paz, Godoy and Victorica. The Senate is summoned for to-day, and will probably elect General Roca as President; but it is understood that he is anxious to transfer the honour to Senator Igarzabal.

Bravo Ciacchi! He has secured the Falconi Company, the great Italian dramatic Troupe, for the Politeama this season. The star of the Troupe is Signora Boetti Valvasura who disputes with the famous Duse Cecchi the first rank on the Italian stage. Both ladies are qualified as the Sarah Bernhardts of Italy. The Company embark on the 3rd of May, and the Politeama is being put ship-shape by Ciacchi's active representative, Signor Alfredo Milone. The troupe will in all probability make their debut on the 24th May. Signor Ciacchi is getting up an opera company to make its debut in the Politeama in July, and we understand that it is probable Stagno will come out as first tenor. The Commendatore is at present starring it in Rome in Cavalleria Rusticana, Mala Vita and the Amico Fritz. His voice is as as fresh as his wonderful power of modulation and vocalization is unimpaired. It is possible that De Lucia may be prevailed on to sing again in the Politeama this season.

Ferrari's Opera Troupe is expected to land by the 16th prox. Nearly all the boxes and seats at the Opera House have been already booked.

The first of the many visitors to our Chamber of Horrors yesterday, to see Deeming's card (the only horror in it as yet), remarked that it would suit better if the name on it were changed to "Demon." We consider this to be a nice, mild pun to which not even Dr. Johnson could reasonably object.

A bucolic subscriber has favoured us with the following humourous communication:—

Dear STANDARD.

With reference to the remark in your yesterday's issue that "there are no more valuable food-plants than alfalfa for the Estancia. It is calculated that an acre will produce green food for two cows for 250 days, and ought to produce 10,000 pounds of milk or 1500 lbs. of beef," may I beg an answer from 'Agricola' to the following queries.

I am a farmer in a small way with about 4 acres of land laid down with alfalfa.

Might I ask the most expeditious and cheapest way in milking alfalfa?

Should you first lasso and throw it, or approach quickly and soothe it? Does it yield milk readily or have you to squeeze it very much? Reckoning a pound of milk as equal to a yard of paper money, and taking 4 acres of alfalfa as 6000 lbs. of beef, which is the best way of combining the milk and the meat so as to obtain the best market price for both? What quality of beef is alfalfa, and is there a ready sale for it, as the yield being so great, a rapid fortune might be made by judicious cultivation of a back garden.

Yours inquiringly

R. H. W.

The times are out of joint. The latest proof of this is the defacing with gross allusions or blotting or cutting off altogether the portraits of Generals Roca and Mitre from bank notes, and shopkeepers are now refusing to accept such defaced notes, so the decent portion of the public are cautioned to be careful in accepting them. The sad demoralization of the day is seen in this truly silly and shameful way of expressing political sentiments.

The once meteoric Banco Constructor has still a faint kick in it. The Directors are going to call a meeting of creditors and holders of Obligaciones "to harmonise ideas" as to how they can be paid what is due to them. Creditors and holders of securities are generally harmony itself when it is a question of getting money they never expected to touch, so the coming B. C. meeting will doubtless be like one in a dove-cot.

We were favoured yesterday with a seductive pamphlet issued by the Information and Exchange Office in Asuncion, setting forth the glories of the President Gonzalez Colony at Caazapa in particular and those of Paraguay in general. Should any of our readers or subscribers connected with Paraguay by bonds of love or money wish to stimulate their drooping spirits by imbibing the contents of this pamphlet, we'll make a sacrifice and lend it to them.

Here's some Chicago Exhibition news: "Queen Margaret of Italy has promised to loan her famous collection of rare laces for exhibition at the Fair. Ceylon will conduct a tea-house on Midway Plaisance. H. Gloster Armstrong, of London, is in Chicago, making application for space upon which to show a reproduction of the Tower of London, or rather the most interesting portions of it, such as the "White Tower," "Beauchamp Tower," "Tower Green," "Traitors' Gate," etc. He represents a company willing to expend £50,000 in the enterprise. The Sultan of Turkey has consented to the erection of a mosque in the Exposition grounds for the religious services of Mohammedans who attend the Fair. It is reported that £600 will be expended in its erection."

The many happy proprietors of the famous North American Song Folios will be glad to hear that the English Book Exchange, 333 Calle Florida, has just received the new Song folio No. 3. As the number of copies is limited, intending customers will do well to hasten to the E. B. E.

The Bishop of Cordoba, the Rt. Revd. Dr. Toro, is expected back here from Rome about the middle of next month.

The Minister of the Interior will ask Congress to be kind enough to vote $200,000 more, to enable Argentina to appear decently at the Chicago Exhibition; as the $100,000 voted last year, when turned into American Gold Eagles, will not be worth looking at, thanks to the high peak on which the Argentine Gold Eagle is still perched, blinking at the military manœuvres and meditating as to what he will do when Congress meets and the state of siege is raised.

A London financial paper reports the following "bon mot" in reference to the shady proceedings of "option syndicates":— "A victim of one of these deals was complaining to a friendly solicitor of how he had been "done," to which the man of law rejoined, "These are queer charges. Have you been dealing with a 'House' broker or some bucket-shop people?" "It seems to me," said the plucked pigeon, "that I have been dealing with a house

Time, Labour and Money saved by its use.

Messrs. Moore & Tudor, Maipu 163, B. Aires.
Chascomus, March 23rd 1891.
Dear Sirs—
"I have tried HAYWARD'S "PASTE" DIP on my Sheep, and have pleasure in bearing testimony to "PASTE" AS A DIP. I need have no hesitation in recommending it generally as a Cure for Scab, without discolouring or damaging the Wool.
The "PASTE" is in my opinion preferable to the Powder, and will probably have a larger sale than the latter."
Yours very truly
(Signed)
JOHN KELLIE.

It has been proved by many important Estancieros that HAYWARD'S PASTE is more convenient to use than any other Dip, being already mixed and dissolving in any kind of water. It makes a smooth soapy bath which adheres well to the Fleece and leaves the wool clean and soft.

ON 'CHANGE.

Thursday, April 28th.

The propaganda of the Argentine Committee of the Chicago Exhibition is bearing good results. The experience of former years is turned to account and the Committee are working in a practical manner, free from trammels of too many sub-committees, the bane of previous attempts in this regard. We have already called attention to the support tendered to the Committee by all the leading clubs and industrial societies of this city; now we are glad to announce that the exhibition has been taken up in the same spirit all over the provinces. Colonel Manuel Fernandez Oro has been sent as special Commissioner to Corrientes to see the Local Governor; the gallant Colonel also leaves a commission to General Donovan in the Chaco Territory, also to Colonel Moritan, Governor of Misiones. Mr. Narciso Vivot has promised to exhibit collections from his estancias, especially sheep products. Messrs. Gibson, of Ajó, will send fleeces from the Estancia Los Ingleses and a fine lot of Lincoln sheep; it is to be hoped that other farmers will follow the example and send good specimens of Rambouillet, Negrette, &c. The Argentine Committee telegraphed to-day to the United States request ng 2500 square metres space for the Argentine section: an answer is expected every moment. Messrs. Devoto Rocha & Co. will send a complete collection of the products of their distilleries: our American brothers will take much interest in the alcohol exhibits. Mr. Prat will also have a grand stall. Mr. Hoskold of the mining department will send the splendid collection of minerals that excited so much admiration in Paris.

COMPANIA TELEGRAFICA DEL RIO DE LA PLATA
287-SAN MARTIN-287
Aviso al Publico
Al comunicar una rebaja de veinticuatro (24) centavos oro por palabra en sus tarifas actuales para Estados Unidos, Europa etc., las empresas interesadas hacen saber al publico que la comunicacion VIA LISBOA tiene inmejorables ventajas que ninguna otra puede ofrecer por tener cables duplicados, faltando para completar su duplicacion entre Europa y Buenos Aires, solamente la seccion entre Santos y la frontera Uruguaya, que quedará concluida en pocos dias mas, asi es que la correcta trasmision y la rapidez están aseguradas.
Es posible que la "VIA GALVESTON" ofrezca igual rebaja, pero no con la idea de favorecer al publico, o de competir con la "VIA LISBOA" en la correcta trasmision y la rapidez, sino para ganjearse el favor del publico, asi lo ha comprendido el comercio que sigue favoreciendo esta compañia por ser la que ofrece mayores seguridades y ventajas.
